ECONOMIC MARKETS

Market and Economic Charts

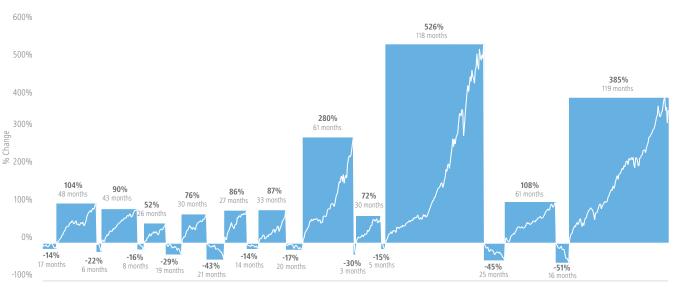

The importance of diversification is no great secret. The chart and table on this page illustrate how different markets and asset classes perform. Asset classes do not always move in tandem; stock prices may be up when bond prices are down and vice versa.

Growth of a $10,000 (CAD) Investment on January $1^{st},\,1990$

The charts on this page represent bull and bear markets in both the S&P 500 and the S&P/TSX indices. All bars above the line are bull markets; all bars below are bear markets. As can be seen in the charts, bull markets during that period have typically lasted longer and provided a more significant percentage change.

Since January 1, 2009, Canadian residents who are 18 years of age or older with a valid SIN are eligible to contribute to a Tax-Free Savings Account.

TFSA contribution room accumulates every year, if at any time in the calendar year you are 18 years of age or older and a resident of Canada. You do not have to set up a TFSA or file a tax return to earn contribution room.

The $6,000 TFSA dollar limit is indexed based on the inflation rate, and rounded to the nearest $500.

The TFSA contribution room is made up of your TFSA dollar limit ($6,000 per year plus indexation), unused TFSA room carried from previous years and the value of any withdrawals made in the previous year, or years.

If you over-contribute beyond your TFSA contribution room in a given year you will be subject to a tax equal to 1% of the highest excess TFSA amount per month.

GOVERNMENT PLANS

Québec Pension Plan (QPP)

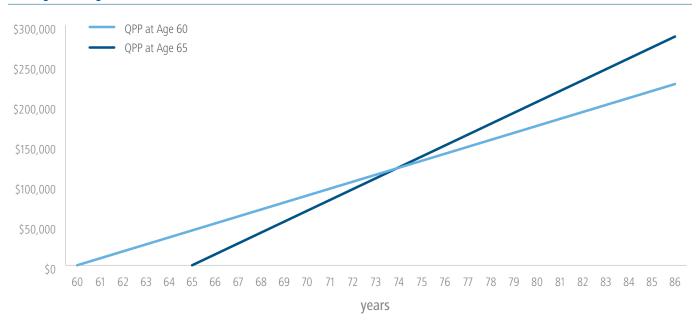

Normal Retirement Date: 65 years old

Early Retirement (asked between 60 and 65): The pension will be reduced by 0.6% per month before your 65th anniversary. Note: this reduction can be modified to 0.5% if the amount is little (if the individual has a low income).

Late Retirement (asked between 65 and 70 years old): The pension will be increased by 0.7% for each month after your 65th anniversary.

At What Age Should I Take my QPP (Age 60 vs Age 65)?

Mathematically, there exists a point of indifference; it corresponds to the age at which there is no difference between taking the QPP at age 60 or at age 65. In this case, it is at age 74.

Guaranteed Investment Certificate Laddering

Strategy summary

- GIC laddering is an investment strategy for customers that do not feel secure investing their total savings amount in a long-term GIC.
- By adopting this strategy, you may considerably increase the returns from your GIC investments, without locking in all of your money into one long-term investment.

Step 1: Divide your savings into tranches

Divide the total amount you want to invest (ex: $50,000) by 5 and invest each single amount (ex: $10,000) in terms from 1 to 5 years

Step 2: Reinvest each tranche at maturity When each GIC comes to maturity, invest it in a new 5 year GIC

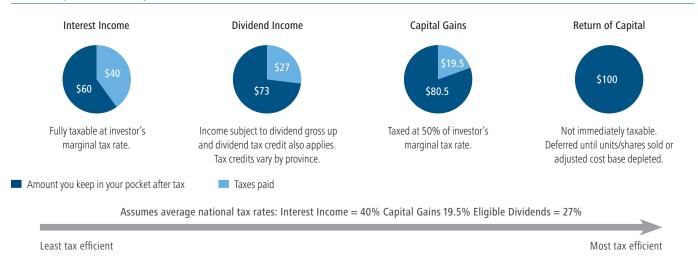

Final result

By laddering, a term matures every year, which means every year you have two options: access some money if you need it, or keep investing.

Not all income is taxed the same

Tax consequences for every $100 received in income:

Tax-Advantaged Growth

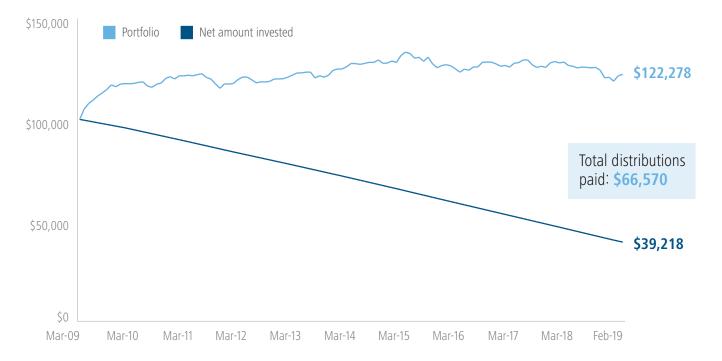

The less tax you have to pay along the way, the faster your investment could grow

Assumptions: The investment in corporate class funds generates gains that are tax-deferred until the end of the 25-year period, then taxed as capital gains at an effective rate 25%. The dividend-paying investment is taxed annually at 34.5%. The interest-paying investment is taxed annually at 50%.

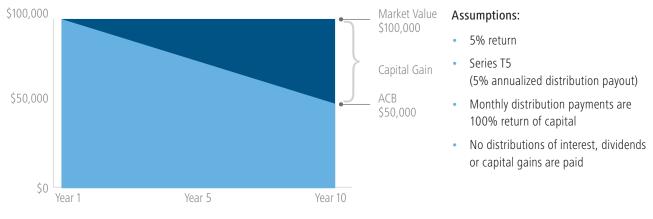

Invest and Benefit from Regular Distributions

Hypothetical $100,000 investment in Symmetry Conservative Portfolio Corporate Class with distributions payment at a rate of 5%.

Understanding Return of Capital (ROC)

- ROC reduces the investment's adjusted cost base (ACB) by the amount distributed.
- Cash flow is tax deferred until the shares are sold, or the investor's ACB is zero.

3 Types of Wills Recognized by Québec Law

- Authentic (or notarized) will: this will is always received by a notary and a witness (or two witnesses in some cases).
- Holograph will: this will must be entirely handwritten by the testator. This means that the law does not allow the testator to use a typewriter, computer or any other technical means to write the will. The testator must sign the will him- or herself, but the presence of witnesses is not required.
- Will made before witnesses: the testator does not have to write the will by hand. The will may be typewritten, but it must be signed by the testator or by a third party on the testator's behalf, in the testator's presence and according to his or her instructions. The testator must declare that the will is his or hers in the presence of two witnesses who meet specific requirements. These witnesses must also sign the will in the presence of the testator.

A notarized will takes effect upon death. It is not subject to probate because the law recognizes notaries as public officers and allows them to confer authenticity on their wills. This is not the case for holograph will and wills made before witnesses. To have legal effect, these documents must be probated by a notary or by the court.

Power of Attorney vs Protection Mandate in Case of Incapacity

What should a power of attorney stipulate?

A power of attorney allows you to appoint a person or mandatary to act on your behalf in certain circumstances. The power of attorney may stipulate a series of powers you want to entrust to your mandatary.

If you plan to be away for an extended period of time, you may wish to authorize your mandatary to do everything you yourself would do. For example, the mandatary may pay your rent or mortgage, carry out banking transactions, renew your insurance policies, etc.

It is always best to lay out the mandatary's powers clearly. In this way, you can authorize your mandatary to act in only specific situations, if you so wish. For example, a mandate may cover only the sale of your property in accordance with conditions you have specified. Your mandatary would then be required to take only the action required for this purpose.

Your notary is fully qualified to advise you on the contents of a power of attorney and draw up the document according to your specific needs.

Do not confuse power of attorney with protection mandate in case of incapacity

You should not confuse a power of attorney with a protection mandate in case of incapacity.

A power of attorney only temporarily mitigates a person's physical inability to take care of his or her affairs (for instance, as mentioned earlier, during an extended stay abroad). A power of attorney is valid only if the mandator, or person represented, is able to take care of his or her own well-being and property. If the person becomes incapacitated, the power of attorney is no longer valid. A protection mandate in case of incapacity is intended to address the mandator's incapacity, whether temporary or permanent.
