Management Discussion of Fund Performance

November 13, 2018

This Management Discussion of Fund Performance presents the portfolio management team's view on the significant factors and developments during the period ended September 30, 2018, that have affected the Fund's performance and outlook. If the Fund was established during the period, "period" represents the period from inception to the end of the fiscal period. For information on the Fund's longer-term performance, as applicable, please refer to the Past Performance section of the report. In this report, "Mackenzie" refers to Mackenzie Financial Corporation, the manager of the Fund. In addition, net asset value ("NAV") refers to the value of the Fund as calculated for transaction purposes, on which the discussion of Fund performance is based.

Results of Operations

Investment Performance

The performance of the Fund's Series A and Series LB securities is discussed below. The performance of all series is shown in the Past Performance section of the report. Where series returns differ, it is primarily because different levels of fees and expenses were charged to each series, or because securities of a series were not issued and outstanding for the entire reporting period. Please refer to the Fund Formation and Series Information section of this report for the varying management and administration fees payable by each series.

During the period, the Fund's Series A and Series LB securities returned 1.1% (after deducting fees and expenses paid by the series). This compares with a return of 5.2% for the Fund's broad-based index, the MSCI AC (All Country) World (Net) Index, and a return of 4.0% for a blended index.* All index and series returns are calculated on a total return basis in Canadian dollar terms. Investors cannot invest in the index without incurring fees, expenses and commissions, which are not reflected in the index returns.

The global economy expanded over the period despite continued trade and geopolitical uncertainty. The U.S. Federal Reserve raised the federal funds rate twice in response to the strengthening U.S. economy and rising inflation, while the Bank of Canada increased its policy rate once. The European Central Bank kept its policy rate steady, but confirmed that it will conclude its asset purchase program at the end of 2018. Emerging markets equities fell in response to rising interest rates, a stronger U.S. dollar and global trade tensions. The Canadian equity market posted a gain over the period in response to improved economic growth and strong corporate earnings. Higher oil prices led to more favourable investor sentiment toward the energy sector. Higher interest rates helped bolster Canadian bank stocks, which also benefited from improved profit margins.

* The blended index is composed of a 55% weighting in the MSCI AC (All Country) World (Net) Index (returned 5.2%), a 20% weighting in the S&P/TSX Composite Index (returned 6.2%), a 20% weighting in the FTSE TMX Canada Universe Bond Index (returned -0.4%) and a 5% weighting in the ICE BofAML Global Broad Market (Hedged) Index (returned -0.3%).

Within the MSCI AC (All Country) World (Net) Index, Qatar, Israel and the United States were the strongest performers in Canadian dollar terms, while Turkey, Pakistan and Brazil were the weakest. From a sector perspective, health care, energy and information technology were the strongest performers, while financials, real estate and consumer staples were the weakest.

Within the S&P/TSX Composite Index, health care, industrials and information technology were the strongest sectors, while materials, consumer discretionary and utilities were the weakest.

Performance varied across global government bond markets over the period, but in general yields rose across the curve. Shorter-term yields increased significantly, causing yield curves to flatten, particularly in Canada and the United States. Emerging market bonds underperformed as a result of the strong U.S. dollar. The Canadian bond market fell over the period as yields increased in response to strong economic growth. The Canadian dollar was volatile as the benefit of a robust economy was offset by trade concerns.

The Fund currently invests all its assets in Symmetry Growth Portfolio (the "Underlying Fund"). The following discussion reflects the Underlying Fund's allocation decisions and the activities and performance of its underlying mutual funds and other directly held securities. The Fund underperformed the broad-based index primarily because of its allocation to fixed income securities, which underperformed equities. Given the Fund's mandate, the return of the blended index is a more meaningful comparison.

The Fund underperformed the blended index primarily because of stock selection in the consumer discretionary sector and in Taiwan.

Within the equity portion of the Fund, overweight exposure to emerging markets, particularly China, an allocation to international small-cap stocks and underweight exposure to the United States also detracted from performance. On a sector basis, an underweight position and stock selection in information technology detracted. Conversely, stock selection in the United States contributed to performance, more than offsetting the negative impact of underweight exposure. On a sector basis, stock selection in health care and utilities contributed.

Within the fixed income portion of the Fund, overweight exposure to corporate bonds, selection of corporate bonds in the energy and industrial sectors, and exposure to term loans contributed to performance. Conversely, longer-term government bonds detracted from performance.

The Fund actively manages currency exposure in order to manage risks and take advantage of market opportunities. Currency management detracted from performance primarily because the Fund had overweight exposure to the euro early in the period as it depreciated relative to the Canadian dollar, and the Fund hedged some of its exposure to the U.S. dollar as it was appreciating relative to the Canadian dollar.

INTERIM MANAGEMENT REPORT OF FUND PERFORMANCE | For the Period Ended September 30, 2018

MANAGED ASSET PORTFOLIO

Over the period, portfolio activity and market effect resulted in increased exposure to fixed income and reduced exposure to equities. Exposure to Canada increased, while exposure to the United Kingdom decreased. Within the equity portion of the Fund, exposure to the energy sector increased, while exposure to the consumer discretionary, consumer staples and financials sectors decreased. Within the fixed income portion of the Fund, exposure to federal bonds decreased. The allocation to underlying fund Mackenzie Emerging Markets Class was eliminated, and allocations to Mackenzie Emerging Markets Small Cap Fund, Mackenzie Emerging Markets Large Cap Fund and Mackenzie Multi-Strategy Absolute Return Fund were added.

Net Assets

The Fund's NAV increased by 2.7% to $88.4 million at September 30, 2018, from $86.1 million at March 31, 2018. This change was composed primarily of $1.2 million in net income (including dividend income) from investment performance, after deducting fees and expenses, $1.3 million in net sales, and $0.1 million in cash distributions.

Fees and Expenses

The annualized management expense ratios ("MERs") for Series A of 2.46% and for Series LB of 2.55% during the period ended September 30, 2018, were slightly higher than the MERs for the year ended March 31, 2018, which were 2.45% for Series A and 2.54% for Series LB. The MERs (before and after waivers or absorptions, if any) for each series are presented in the Financial Highlights section of this report. The MERs for certain series decreased due to a decrease in fund costs and a decrease in the management and/or administration fee rates effective June 1, 2018, as noted in the Fund Formation and Series Information section of the report. The MER for Series B decreased due to a decrease in the management and administration fee rates effective August 17, 2018. The MER for Series FB decreased due to a decrease in fund costs. The MERs for Series LW and Series LW6 increased due to an increase in fund costs.

Recent Developments

The Mackenzie Multi-Asset Strategy team believes that positive and negative economic factors across the macroeconomic landscape are fairly balanced. Risks include the trade war between the United States and China, which could hinder the flow of global trade and disturb several supply chains. In addition, China's crackdown on shadow banking (unregulated financial products and institutions) and attempts to reduce leverage are slowing its growth, which poses risks to economies highly exposed to China.

Nevertheless, many economic indicators look healthy around the globe, particularly in the United States. The team believes the removal of uncertainty related to trade agreements between Canada, the United States and Mexico should also benefit North American growth.

In fixed income, the team believes global markets are responding to a confluence of factors that will continue to push yields higher. These include the strong performance of the U.S. economy, which has raised market expectations for further policy rate increases. U.S. inflationary pressures are also mounting, due to the tight labour market and an economy that is operating at or near potential. Finally, central banks around the world have begun to end accommodative monetary policy, albeit at varying paces.

Effective June 1, 2018, Series PWF securities were consolidated into Series F securities, and Series PWF8 securities were consolidated into Series F8 securities.

Effective January 1, 2019, Series F6 will be renamed Series F5, Series PWT6 will be renamed Series PWT5, Series T6 will be renamed Series T5 and Series LW6 will be renamed Series LW5, and the fixed-rate distributions of these series will change from 6% to 5%. On the same date, the fixed-rate distribution of Series LX will also change from 6% to 5%.

Related Party Transactions

The following arrangements result in fees paid by the Fund to Mackenzie or to companies affiliated with the Fund.

Management and Administration Services

For each applicable series, the Fund paid management fees and administration fees to Mackenzie at the annual rates specified under Fund Formation and Series Information in this report and as more fully described in the Prospectus. In return for the administration fees, Mackenzie pays all costs and expenses (other than certain specified fund costs) required to operate the Fund that are not included in management fees. See also Management Fees.

Other Related Party Transactions

At September 30, 2018, Mackenzie had an investment of $12,352 in the Fund (less than 0.1% of the Fund's NAV).

The Fund did not rely on an approval, positive recommendation or standing instruction from the Mackenzie Funds' Independent Review Committee with respect to any related party transactions.

- (1) This information is provided as at the end of the fiscal period shown.
- (2) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. If in the period a series was established or reinstated, the management expense ratio is annualized from the date of inception or reinstatement. Mackenzie may waive or absorb operating expenses at its discretion and stop waiving or absorbing such expenses at any time without notice.
- (3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.
- (4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund. The portfolio turnover rate is not provided when the Fund is less than one year old. The value of any trades to realign the Fund's portfolio after a fund merger, if any, is excluded from the portfolio turnover rate.

Management Fees

The management fee for each applicable series is calculated and accrued daily as a percentage of its NAV. The Fund's management fees were used by Mackenzie to pay for the costs of managing the investment portfolio of the Fund and/or the underlying fund(s), as applicable, including providing investment analysis and recommendations, making investment decisions, making brokerage arrangements for the purchase and sale of the investment portfolio, and providing other services. Mackenzie also used the management fees to fund sales commissions, trailing commissions and any other compensation (collectively "distribution-related payments") to registered dealers and brokers whose clients invest in the Fund.

LBC Financial Services Inc. ("LBC") is the principal distributor for the LBC series securities of the Fund (as listed under Fund Formation and Series Information) and receives a portion of the management fees that the Fund pays to Mackenzie. Under this arrangement, LBC was entitled to approximately 23% of the total management fees that Mackenzie received from the LBC series of all Mackenzie funds during the period. Mackenzie is responsible for paying all distribution-related payments to LBC-authorized dealers whose clients invest in the LBC series of the Fund.

The following dealers affiliated with Mackenzie may be entitled to distribution-related payments from Mackenzie on the same basis as unrelated registered brokers and dealers: IPC Securities Corporation, Investors Group Securities Inc., IPC Investment Corporation and Investors Group Financial Services Inc.

Mackenzie used approximately 43% of the total management fee revenues received from all Mackenzie funds during the period to fund distribution-related payments to registered dealers and brokers. In comparison, such distribution-related payments for the Fund represented on average 41% of the management fees paid by all applicable series of the Fund during the period. The actual percentage for each series may be higher or lower than the average depending on the level of trailing commissions and sales commissions paid for that series.

Series LM securities are no longer available for sale, except that pre-authorized contribution plans that were in place as at November 25, 2015, may continue.

An investor in the Fund may choose among different purchase options that are available under each series. These purchase options are a sales charge purchase option, a redemption charge purchase option, various low-load purchase options and a no-load purchase option. The charges under the sales charge purchase option are negotiated by investors with their dealers. The charges under the redemption charge and low-load purchase options are paid to Mackenzie if an investor redeems securities of the Fund during specific periods. Not all purchase options are available under each series of the Fund, and the charges for each purchase option may vary among the different series. For further details on these purchase options, please refer to the Fund's Simplified Prospectus and Fund Facts.
