Deep Pension-Style Expertise

Investment Challenges

Successful investing requires time, discipline, expertise, technical knowledge, risk management and market monitoring.

What is my risk tolerance?

There are so many securities across so many asset classes!

How much should I put in each asset class?

How do I take advantage of events?

How do I make sense of all this information?

What should I invest in?

If I get out... when do I get back in?

How do I pick which securities are right for me?

Markets Can Be Unpredictable

Volatility Can Lead to an Emotional Roller Coaster

Risk of Making Wrong Decisions: Buy High and Sell Low

When markets are down, investors panic and sell low. When markets are up, investors react and buy high. This emotional roller coaster is evident in the investment industry net sales.

Source: Bloomberg, IFIC, as of December 31, 2018.

The Result: Investors Underperform The Market

An initial investment of $100,000 into the S&P 500 20 years ago would have grown to $401,694 by the end of 2017. According to Dalbar, an average investor who made buy/sell decisions in equities over the same period realized just $280,377. That's $121,317 less than the index return.

When investors react emotionally, they miss out on return opportunities as the market recovers. Staying invested for the long-term helps realize all potential growth.

Diversify Your Portfolio for a Smoother Ride

Different asset classes perform differently from year to year. A well diversified portfolio can give you exposure to top performing categories, while mitigating exposure to the worst performers.

Do you have the expertise to build a well diversified and balanced portfolio?

Our Changing World

What Can You Do to Ensure Investment Success?

Challenging Future Return Environment

Aging populations, fewer people working, lower productivity growth, higher government debt and overvalued bond and equity markets suggest a lower return market.

› Investors need a multi-asset solution to help improve returns.

Markets Can Be Unpredictable

Bouncing between large gains and losses creates problematic behaviour for most investors. For older investors, large losses can be devastating.

› Investors need better risk management.

Asset Complexity

Innovation has expanded the universe of products and asset classes for investors, but more options bring more complexity.

› Investors need more sophisticated portfolio construction.

Emerging Technology

Advances in data analytics and risk management help managers understand portfolios better. They also let them manage portfolios with more agility.

› Investors need the advantages of technology.

Achieving Diversification Using Managed Solutions

Managed Solutions are multi-asset portfolios that are comprised of carefully selected financial instruments (stocks, bonds, ETFs, currencies) and mutual funds, held individually or in pools to build a diversified portfolio. The portfolio management team determines the right asset allocation for each portfolio that aims to earn the greatest return based on each investor's risk tolerance.

- Diversifies across asset classes, geography, sectors, etc.
- Accesses investment managers around the world.
- Dynamically adjusts allocations to take advantage of broader global market trends and developments.
- Manages currency exposure.
- Uses an integrated total portfolio approach.

Even the Smartest Phone Diversifies

Like Symmetry, the iPhone 8 adopts a “hybrid” mentality. Apple designs and makes much of its hardware and software in house.

But Apple doesn't do it alone!

It diversifies by relying heavily on many different tech companies (even on its competitor, Samsung) to supply parts, utilizing each ones' expertise to help make the iPhone the best it can be.

Apple is ultimately responsible for bringing all the pieces together seamlessly to create the final user experience.

Like Apple, Mackenzie's Multi-Asset Strategies Team oversees portfolio construction using internal and external components, and is responsible for integrating them together into one holistic investment solution.
