Why you need US equities in your portfolio

The US is known to be one of the most innovative countries in the world. By investing in US companies, your portfolio immediately gains exposure to a wider range of some of the biggest and most dynamic, fastest-growing companies in the world. New and growing trends, such as e-commerce and telemedicine, are becoming increasingly pervasive in our daily lives.

Companies that are at the forefront of innovation, and those well-placed to adapt quickly, are the most likely to see rapid and enduring growth. Many of those innovative companies with high growth potential are in the US and they have the potential to diversify and strengthen your investor portfolio.

How it works

Capitalizes on future trends:

A thematic approach is a distinctive feature of the fund. The team analyzes global trends, as well as problems and potential solutions, to identify which themes could drive sustained growth for businesses over a multi-year time horizon. It scours businesses that will be driven by the key themes in technology and innovation, as well as business and consumer behaviour over the next decade.

Leverages global research expertise:

The fund managers leverage the expertise of over 50 research professionals and a global equity research team, composed of numerous industry veterans in Boston, London and Singapore, to identify themes and companies. After conducting intensive research, the team focuses on determining the right combination of stocks that can provide attractive and consistent risk-adjusted returns over the long term.
