Management Discussion of Fund Performance

November 12, 2019

This Management Discussion of Fund Performance presents the portfolio management team's view on the significant factors and developments during the period ended September 30, 2019, that have affected the Fund's performance and outlook. If the Fund was established during the period, "period" represents the period from inception to the end of the fiscal period. For information on the Fund's longer-term performance, as applicable, please refer to the Past Performance section of the report. In this report, "Mackenzie" refers to Mackenzie Financial Corporation, the manager of the Fund. In addition, net asset value ("NAV") refers to the value of the Fund as calculated for transaction purposes, on which the discussion of Fund performance is based.

Results of Operations

Investment Performance

The performance of the Fund's Series A securities is discussed below. The performance of all series is shown in the Past Performance section of the report. Where series returns differ, it is primarily because different levels of fees and expenses were charged to each series, or because securities of a series were not issued and outstanding for the entire reporting period. Please refer to the Fund Formation and Series Information section of this report for the varying management and administration fees payable by each series.

During the period, the Fund's Series A securities returned 0.8% (after deducting fees and expenses paid by the series). This compares with a return of 4.0% for a blended index composed of a 50% weighting in the Fund's broad-based index, the MSCI AC (All Country) World (Net) Index (returned 2.6%), and a 50% weighting in the ICE BofAML Global Broad Market (Hedged) Index (returned 5.2%). All index and series returns are calculated on a total return basis in Canadian dollar terms. Investors cannot invest in an index without incurring fees, expenses and commissions, which are not reflected in the index returns.

While most developed global equity markets posted positive returns over the period, some faced significant challenges from slowing global growth, trade tensions and geopolitical strains such as the potential withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union. However, these same challenges benefited developed global bond markets, which posted strong returns. Yield curves flattened, and even inverted, as central banks in many developed countries lowered interest rates or debated policies to support economic growth. Lower interest rates supported high-yield bond markets, particularly higher-quality bonds with longer duration. In emerging markets, bond performance varied greatly, and currencies depreciated relative to the Canadian dollar.

Within the MSCI AC (All Country) World (Net) Index, Egypt, Russia and Turkey were the strongest-performing countries in Canadian dollar terms, while Argentina, Pakistan and Chile were the weakest. From a sector perspective, utilities, information technology and consumer staples were the strongest performers, while energy, materials and health care were the weakest.

The Fund underperformed both the broad-based index and the blended index, with its fixed income portfolio detracting from performance. The equity portion of the Fund also underperformed both indices. Given the Fund's mandate, the return of the blended index is a more meaningful comparison.

Within the equity portion of the Fund, stock selection in the financials and consumer discretionary sectors detracted from performance. From a geographic perspective, stock selection in the Netherlands, Germany and the United States detracted. Conversely, stock selection in the communication services, industrials and health care sectors contributed to performance, as did stock selection in Japan and China.

Within the fixed income portion of the Fund, shorter duration positioning relative to the ICE BofAML Global Broad Market (Hedged) Index detracted from performance, as longer-term bonds rose more than shorter-term bonds. Conversely, holdings in government bonds contributed to performance, as did duration positioning in Canada and Australia.

The foreign currency exposure of the equity portion of the Fund was not hedged. Currency exposure detracted from the performance of both the Fund and the blended index as most major currencies depreciated relative to the Canadian dollar. The foreign currency exposure of the fixed income portion of the Fund was substantially hedged, which had no significant impact on performance relative to the ICE BofAML Global Broad Market (Hedged) Index.

The Fund held put options on high-yield bonds and long-term government bonds to help manage credit risk exposure, which had no significant impact on performance. The Fund's short futures positions, used to manage fixed income duration risk, detracted from performance. Currency options, held tactically to gain exposure to currency markets, also detracted. The Fund also held swaps to gain exposure to or mitigate the risks of certain interest rate exposures, which had no significant impact on performance.

Over the period, portfolio activity and market effect resulted in new exposure to Luxembourg and increased exposure to the United States and France. Exposure to Norway and Australia decreased, and exposure to Denmark was eliminated. Within the equity portion of the Fund, exposure to the industrials and consumer staples sectors increased, while exposure to consumer discretionary, utilities and information technology decreased. Within the fixed income portion of the Fund, exposure to foreign government bonds and supra-national bonds increased, while exposure to corporate bonds, provincial bonds and term loans decreased.

Net Assets

The Fund's NAV increased by 5.2% to $23.6 million at September 30, 2019, from $22.4 million at March 31, 2019. This change was composed primarily of $0.3 million in net income (including dividend and interest income) from investment performance, after deducting fees and expenses, $1.0 million in net sales, and $0.1 million in cash distributions.

Fees and Expenses

The annualized management expense ratio (“MER”) for Series A of 2.35% during the period ended September 30, 2019, was slightly lower than the MER of 2.37% for the year ended March 31, 2019. The MERs (before and after waivers or absorptions, if any) for all series are presented in the Financial Highlights section of this report.

Recent Developments

On July 19, 2019, Nelson Arruda of the Mackenzie Multi-Asset Strategies team assumed responsibility from Alain Bergeron for asset mix decisions of the Fund.

The equity portfolio management team expects global equity markets to be flat for the remainder of calendar 2019 due to two opposing forces: synchronized policy easing and some targeted fiscal stimulus that should help to raise valuations, and weakening fundamentals that are likely to lower earnings expectations. In the United States, the team believes the impeachment inquiry could weaken President Trump’s standing among moderate voters. As the race for the presidency heats up into November 2020, the team believes U.S. markets could become more volatile and potentially underperform other regions.

In the fixed income portfolio management team’s view, the U.S. Federal Reserve would prefer to keep the federal funds rate at current levels unless U.S.–China trade negotiations do not progress smoothly. Overall, the team expects economic activity to improve as lower yields provide some stimulus. The team believes the European Central Bank and the Bank of Japan will keep monetary conditions accommodative because confidence in their economies is faltering. The team believes both regions may benefit from relief in trade tensions.

Related Party Transactions

The following arrangements result in fees paid by the Fund to Mackenzie or to companies affiliated with the Fund.

Management and Administration Services

For each applicable series, the Fund paid management fees and administration fees to Mackenzie at the annual rates specified under Fund Formation and Series Information in this report and as more fully described in the Prospectus. In return for the administration fees, Mackenzie pays all costs and expenses (other than certain specified fund costs) required to operate the Fund that are not included in management fees. See also Management Fees.

Other Related Party Transactions

At September 30, 2019, Mackenzie had an investment of $22,431 in the Fund (less than 0.1% of the Fund’s NAV).

The Fund did not rely on an approval, positive recommendation or standing instruction from the Mackenzie Funds’ Independent Review Committee with respect to any related party transactions.

Past Performance

The following bar charts present the performance of each series of the Fund for each of the fiscal periods shown. The charts show, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each fiscal period, or on the series inception or reinstatement date, as applicable, would have increased or decreased by the last day of the fiscal period presented. Series inception or reinstatement dates can be found under Fund Formation and Series Information.

- (1) This information is provided as at the end of the fiscal period shown.
- (2) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. If in the period a series was established or reinstated, the management expense ratio is annualized from the date of inception or reinstatement. Mackenzie may waive or absorb operating expenses at its discretion and stop waiving or absorbing such expenses at any time without notice.
- (3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.
- (4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund. The portfolio turnover rate is not provided when the Fund is less than one year old. The value of any trades to realign the Fund's portfolio after a fund merger, if any, is excluded from the portfolio turnover rate.

Management Fees

The management fee for each applicable series is calculated and accrued daily as a percentage of its NAV. The Fund's management fees were used by Mackenzie to pay for the costs of managing the investment portfolio of the Fund and/or the underlying fund(s), as applicable, including providing investment analysis and recommendations, making investment decisions, making brokerage arrangements for the purchase and sale of the investment portfolio, and providing other services. Mackenzie also used the management fees to fund sales commissions, trailing commissions and any other compensation (collectively "distribution-related payments") to registered dealers and brokers whose clients invest in the Fund.

The following dealers affiliated with Mackenzie may be entitled to distribution-related payments from Mackenzie on the same basis as unrelated registered brokers and dealers: IPC Securities Corporation, Investors Group Securities Inc., IPC Investment Corporation and Investors Group Financial Services Inc.

Mackenzie used approximately 43% of the total management fee revenues received from all Mackenzie funds during the period to fund distribution-related payments to registered dealers and brokers. In comparison, such distribution-related payments for the Fund represented on average 39% of the management fees paid by all applicable series of the Fund during the period. The actual percentage for each series may be higher or lower than the average depending on the level of trailing commissions and sales commissions paid for that series.
