A NOTE ON FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This report may contain forward-looking statements that reflect our current expectations or forecasts of future events. Forward-looking statements include statements that are predictive in nature, depend upon or refer to future events or conditions, or include words such as "expects", "anticipates", "intends", "plans", "believes", "estimates", "preliminary", "typical" and other similar expressions. In addition, these statements may relate to future corporate actions, future financial performance of a fund or a security and their future investment strategies and prospects. Forward-looking statements are inherently subject to, among other things, risks, uncertainties and assumptions that could cause actual events, results, performance or prospects to differ materially from those expressed in, or implied by, these forward-looking statements. These risks, uncertainties and assumptions include, without limitation, general economic, political and market factors in North America and internationally, interest and foreign exchange rates, the volatility of global equity and capital markets, business competition, technological change, changes in government regulations, changes in securities laws and regulations, changes in tax laws, unexpected judicial or regulatory proceedings, catastrophic events and the ability of Mackenzie to attract or retain key employees. The foregoing list of important risks, uncertainties and assumptions is not exhaustive. Please consider these and other factors carefully and do not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements.

The forward-looking information contained in this report is current only as of the date of this report. There should not be an expectation that such information will in all circumstances be updated, supplemented or revised whether as a result of new information, changing circumstances, future events or otherwise.

Management Discussion of Fund Performance

November 12, 2019

This Management Discussion of Fund Performance presents the portfolio management team's view on the significant factors and developments during the period ended September 30, 2019, that have affected the Fund's performance and outlook. If the Fund was established during the period, "period" represents the period from inception to the end of the fiscal period. For information on the Fund's longer-term performance, as applicable, please refer to the Past Performance section of the report. In this report, "Mackenzie" refers to Mackenzie Financial Corporation, the manager of the Fund. In addition, net asset value ("NAV") refers to the value of the Fund as calculated for transaction purposes, on which the discussion of Fund performance is based.

Results of Operations

Investment Performance

The performance of the Fund's Series A securities is discussed below. The performance of all series is shown in the Past Performance section of the report. Where series returns differ, it is primarily because different levels of fees and expenses were charged to each series, or because securities of a series were not issued and outstanding for the entire reporting period. Please refer to the Fund Formation and Series Information section of this report for the varying management and administration fees payable by each series.

During the period, the Fund's Series A securities returned -0.9% (after deducting fees and expenses paid by the series). This compares with a return of 3.6% for the Fund's broad-based index, the MSCI World (Net) Index, and a return of 1.6% for the Fund's narrow index, the MSCI World SMID Cap (Net) Index. All index and series returns are calculated on a total return basis in Canadian dollar terms. Investors cannot invest in an index without incurring fees, expenses and commissions, which are not reflected in the index returns.

Global equities rose slightly in the period. From May to August, global manufacturing sectors contracted. This downturn was most pronounced in the Eurozone and Japan, but U.S. manufacturing also slowed. Geopolitical uncertainty weighed on business capital investment and on global industry. The European Central Bank announced new stimulus measures to support the Eurozone economy. The U.S. Federal Reserve cut the federal funds rate by 25 basis points in July and again in September.

Within the MSCI World SMID Cap (Net) Index, Israel, Switzerland and Australia were the strongest-performing countries in Canadian dollar terms, while Hong Kong, Denmark and Spain were the weakest. From a sector perspective, utilities, real estate and financials were the strongest performers, while energy, health care and materials were the weakest.

The Fund underperformed the broad-based index because of its focus on small- and mid-capitalization stocks, which underperformed the broader global equity market. Given the Fund's mandate, the return of the narrow index is a more meaningful comparison. Unlike the Fund, the indices include only long equity weights.

The Fund underperformed the narrow index, with long positions in the United States and short positions in Norway detracting from performance. In sector terms, long positions in industrials, health care and real estate detracted, as did short positions in information technology.

Conversely, long positions in Canada and Germany and short positions in the United States contributed to performance. In sector terms, long positions in materials and consumer discretionary contributed, as did short positions in health care, consumer discretionary and communication services.

In terms of the Fund's long/short strategy overall, stock selection in long positions detracted from performance, while stock selection in short positions contributed.

The Fund's foreign currency exposure was not hedged. Currency exposure detracted from the performance of both the Fund and the index primarily as the British pound, euro and U.S. dollar depreciated relative to the Canadian dollar.

Over the period, portfolio activity and market effect resulted in increased net exposure to Canada, Germany and the United Kingdom, and decreased net exposure to the United States, France and Japan. At the sector level, net exposure to financials, consumer discretionary and consumer staples increased, while net exposure to materials, health care and energy decreased.

Leverage

Leverage occurs when the Fund borrows money or securities, or uses derivatives, to generate investment exposure that would otherwise not be possible. The Fund's leverage is measured by calculating its aggregate exposure through the sum of the following: (i) the market value of short holdings; (ii) the amount of cash borrowed for investment purposes; and (iii) the notional value of the Fund's derivatives positions, excluding any derivatives used for hedging purposes.

The Fund targets aggregate exposure of 30% of NAV. During the period, the Fund's aggregate exposure reached a low of 26.9% (in July) and a high of 31.2% (in September), but any variations from the target are a temporary effect of market movement and timing of trades. The source of leverage was physical short positions in equity securities. The Fund held no derivatives.

Net Assets

The Fund's NAV increased by 1.3% to $24.8 million at September 30, 2019, from $24.5 million at March 31, 2019. This change was composed primarily of $0.1 million in net income (including dividend and interest income) from investment performance, after deducting fees and expenses, and $0.2 million in net sales.

See Other Related Party Transactions for the percentage of the Fund's NAV owned by related parties. As a result of these investments, the Fund is subject to large transaction risk as discussed in the Prospectus. Mackenzie manages this risk to reduce the possibility of any adverse effect on the Fund or on its investors.

ALTERNATIVE FUND

Fees and Expenses

The annualized management expense ratio ("MER") for Series A of 2.88% during the period ended September 30, 2019, was higher than the annualized MER of 2.80% for the period ended March 31, 2019. The MERs (before and after waivers or absorptions, if any) for all series are presented in the Financial Highlights section of this report. The MERs for Series A, Series F, Series FB, Series PW and Series PWFB increased due to an increase in fund costs.

Recent Developments

The portfolio management team uses a quantitative approach to stock selection that uses systematic multi-factor analysis. Metrics such as earnings growth, price-earnings ratio, free cash flow variability and industry sales trends are used in quantitative models that rank the broad stock universe according to expected return. As such, the team does not generate market expectations and does not make investment decisions according to any macroeconomic forecast.

Related Party Transactions

The following arrangements result in fees paid by the Fund to Mackenzie or to companies affiliated with the Fund.

Management and Administration Services

For each applicable series, the Fund paid management fees and administration fees to Mackenzie at the annual rates specified under Fund Formation and Series Information in this report and as more fully described in the Prospectus. In return for the administration fees, Mackenzie pays all costs and expenses (other than certain specified fund costs) required to operate the Fund that are not included in management fees. See also Management Fees.

Other Related Party Transactions

Investment funds managed by Mackenzie invest in Series R securities of the Fund on a prospectus-exempt basis in accordance with the investment objectives of those funds. At September 30, 2019, funds managed by Mackenzie owned 99.0% of the Fund's NAV. All related party transactions are based on the NAV per security on each transaction day.

At September 30, 2019, Mackenzie had an investment of $6,864 in the Fund (less than 0.1% of the Fund's NAV).

The Fund did not rely on an approval, positive recommendation or standing instruction from the Mackenzie Funds' Independent Review Committee with respect to any related party transactions.

Past Performance

The following bar charts present the performance of each series of the Fund for each of the fiscal periods shown. The charts show, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each fiscal period, or on the series inception or reinstatement date, as applicable, would have increased or decreased by the last day of the fiscal period presented. Series inception or reinstatement dates can be found under Fund Formation and Series Information.

- (1) These calculations are prescribed by securities regulations and are not intended to be a reconciliation between opening and closing net assets per security. This information is derived from the Fund's unaudited interim financial statements and audited annual financial statements. The net assets per security presented in the financial statements may differ from the net asset value per security calculated for fund pricing purposes. An explanation of these differences can be found in the Notes to Financial Statements.
- (2) Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of securities outstanding at the relevant time. The increase/decrease from operations is based on the weighted average number of securities outstanding over the fiscal period.
- (3) Distributions were paid in cash/reinvested in additional securities of the Fund, or both.

- (1) This information is provided as at the end of the fiscal period shown.
- (2) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. If in the period a series was established or reinstated, the management expense ratio is annualized from the date of inception or reinstatement. Mackenzie may waive or absorb operating expenses at its discretion and stop waiving or absorbing such expenses at any time without notice.
- (3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period. Mackenzie may reimburse the Fund for certain brokerage commissions and other transaction costs (including those payable to the custodian or its agents). Mackenzie may make these reimbursements at its discretion and stop these reimbursements at any time without notice.
- (4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher a fund's portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund. The portfolio turnover rate is not provided when the Fund is less than one year old. The value of any trades to realign the Fund's portfolio after a fund merger, if any, is excluded from the portfolio turnover rate.

Management Fees

The management fee for each applicable series is calculated and accrued daily as a percentage of its NAV. The Fund's management fees were used by Mackenzie to pay for the costs of managing the investment portfolio of the Fund and/or the underlying fund(s), as applicable, including providing investment analysis and recommendations, making investment decisions, making brokerage arrangements for the purchase and sale of the investment portfolio, and providing other services. Mackenzie also used the management fees to fund sales commissions, trailing commissions and any other compensation (collectively "distribution-related payments") to registered dealers and brokers whose clients invest in the Fund.

The following dealers affiliated with Mackenzie may be entitled to distribution-related payments from Mackenzie on the same basis as unrelated registered brokers and dealers: IPC Securities Corporation, Investors Group Securities Inc., IPC Investment Corporation and Investors Group Financial Services Inc.

Mackenzie used approximately 43% of the total management fee revenues received from all Mackenzie funds during the period to fund distribution-related payments to registered dealers and brokers. In comparison, such distribution-related payments for the Fund represented on average 8% of the management fees paid by all applicable series of the Fund during the period. The actual percentage for each series may be higher or lower than the average depending on the level of trailing commissions and sales commissions paid for that series.
